

DATE

July 05, 2016

SECTORS

Education
Technology & Software

DEAL TYPE

M&A Advisory

DEAL LOCATIONS

DEAL TEAM

Justin Balciunas
Managing Director

DC Advisory advised Compass Learning on its sale to Edgenuity

DC Advisory* is pleased to announce that its client Compass Learning (Compass), a leader in K-12 learning acceleration software backed by Marlin Equity Partners, has been acquired by Edgenuity, a portfolio company of Weld North Holdings LLC. Compass Learning partners with educators to ensure students achieve record academic results, developing K-12 learning acceleration software for blended learning, intervention, high school, and inquiry-based personalized learning.

The Company's software helps pinpoint and close skill and concept gaps to move students forward academically. Compass serves more than 2 million students and 70,000 teachers in 10,000 schools across the U.S. Edgenuity is a leader in online courseware for credit recovery and blended learning for grades 6-12. Weld North is an investment company focused on digital and SaaS education.

The acquisition strengthens Weld North's position as a leading operator of education businesses and provides Edgenuity with a comprehensive suite of K-12 products.

**Find out more about DC Advisory >*