

Mark Bell
Chief Technology Officer

LOCATION

Mark Bell

Mark is based in New York, and is responsible for developing and executing the firm's IT strategy and aligning technology solutions with global business objectives.

Mark joined Sagent Advisors in 2005, leading the complete overhaul of the combined technology platform when Sagent and Signal Hill merged. More recently, he integrated several acquired entities into DC Advisory including a global migration to Office365 and other cloud platforms.

Mark started his career in Melbourne, Australia designing finance systems in the hospitality sector. He went on to work in the UK and US with experience at Donaldson, Lufkin & Jenrette and Credit Suisse, where he worked in the applications development team, managing technology operations and integration projects.