

DATE

August 16, 2016

SECTORS

Technology & Software

DEAL TYPE

M&A Advisory

DEAL LOCATIONS

DEAL TEAM

David Dolan

Managing Director

Greg Ager

Managing Director

DC Advisory advised ShipXpress on its sale to GE

DC US is pleased to announce that its client ShipXpress, a leading provider of cloud-based software solutions that enable transportation, industrial, and commodities businesses to efficiently operate and collaborate with their supply chain partners, has been acquired by GE Transportation (NYSE: GE), the world's leading producer of rail and transportation-related products and offerings. ShipXpress will become part of GE Transportation's digital portfolio. ShipXpress' clients include major North American railroads and Fortune 500 companies in the energy, agriculture, chemicals, and metal industries.

The deal extends GE Transportation's portfolio of solutions into the logistics value chain, giving it new offerings for shippers, and expanding its ability to deliver information and transaction services for shippers and railroad customers around the world.

The acquisition is the sixth transaction closed by DC US's Enterprise Software team in five months.

We are thrilled to join GE Transportation's Digital Solutions team and further develop our combined 'smart rail' and commodities supply chain software capabilities. By integrating our software products into GE's technology and resources, we'll provide our customers with the transportation industry's most powerful cloud-based, data-driven solution to optimize operations, accounting, supply chain information and performance.

Seth Maerowitz
co-CEO and co-Founder of ShipXpress