DC Advisory, a leading investment banking firm, acted as the exclusive financial advisor to Metova Federal on its sale to By Light Professional IT Services, a provider of professional services, hardware and software engineering solutions to defense, civilian, and commercial customers worldwide. By Light was acquired by Sagewind Capital in 2017.

Metova Federal is a leading cyber range and cyber training services provider to the US Government. For more than ten years, Metova Federal has been an information technology solutions provider specialising in cyber products and services, training and software development. The company offers CyberCENTS, a cyber training, exercise and mission qualification platform to support federal and state agencies in multi-domain environments. This cyberattack emulation environment is complemented with a range of other technical and professional services in support of customers across the DoD and in Federal Civilian, State and Local, and Commercial markets.

With the addition of Metova Federal's software, solutions and services, By Light is positioned to help customers meet increasingly complex and ever-changing mission threats and requirements.
