Laurence O'Shaughnessy biography

ABOUT

Laurence joined IBI Corporate Finance (DC Advisory Ireland) in 2014, and focusses on larger business and plc transactions, as well as leading the Energy and Real Assets team.

Prior to joining DC Advisory Ireland, Laurence spent 13 years as an investment banker in London with Deutsche Bank, Morgan Stanley and Nomura where he focused primarily on European Energy and Infrastructure. During that time, Laurence advised on many significant transactions in the sector on behalf of a variety of plc, institutional, private equity and government clients.

He graduated with a first-class honours Masters degree in Strategic Planning from University College Dublin and holds an honours degree in Business and French from Trinity College Dublin. He also studied at ESSEC Business School in Paris.
