DC Advisory advised Catapult Learning on its merger with SESI

Catapult Learning

DC Advisory is pleased to announce that its client, Catapult Learning, a leading technology-enabled K–12 services provider, has merged with Specialized Education Services, Inc. (SESI), a premier provider of alternative and special education services, resulting in the creation of the unsurpassed industry leader of contracted instructional services in the U.S.

The new organization, to be officially known as Catapult Learning, Inc., is uniquely positioned to deliver an unprecedented portfolio of proven effective programs and services all under one umbrella and all targeted to improve academic achievement and performance. The merger of the two educational services providers also reflects a growing trend for school districts to outsource services for struggling students and those students with special needs.
